

Eastling Primary School has had a wonderful start to the academic year 2017-18. We are pleased to welcome our new Reception children who are now full time. It is lovely to see their enthusiasm and keenness to embrace all the wonderful new and exciting challenges that lay ahead of them. We must also welcome our new Reception teacher Victoria Waugh who has quickly settled into school life.

The school council have already been very proactive taking responsibility for leading the change of our new class names. This process has been pupil led with every child having an opportunity to be listened to. During the summer term the school council had asked for a new more consistent approach to behaviour. We have listened to them and introduced 'Good to be Green.' It focuses on children demonstrating good learning behaviours. This encourages children to stretch themselves academically, support others, ask questions and develop their emotional resilience.

Over the last two weeks Years 5 and 6 have been working with Project Salus on a Social Awareness Programme. They have been focusing on Core Social Skills, Resilience and Community Membership. The children have enjoyed this opportunity and will utilise their new skills throughout the year.

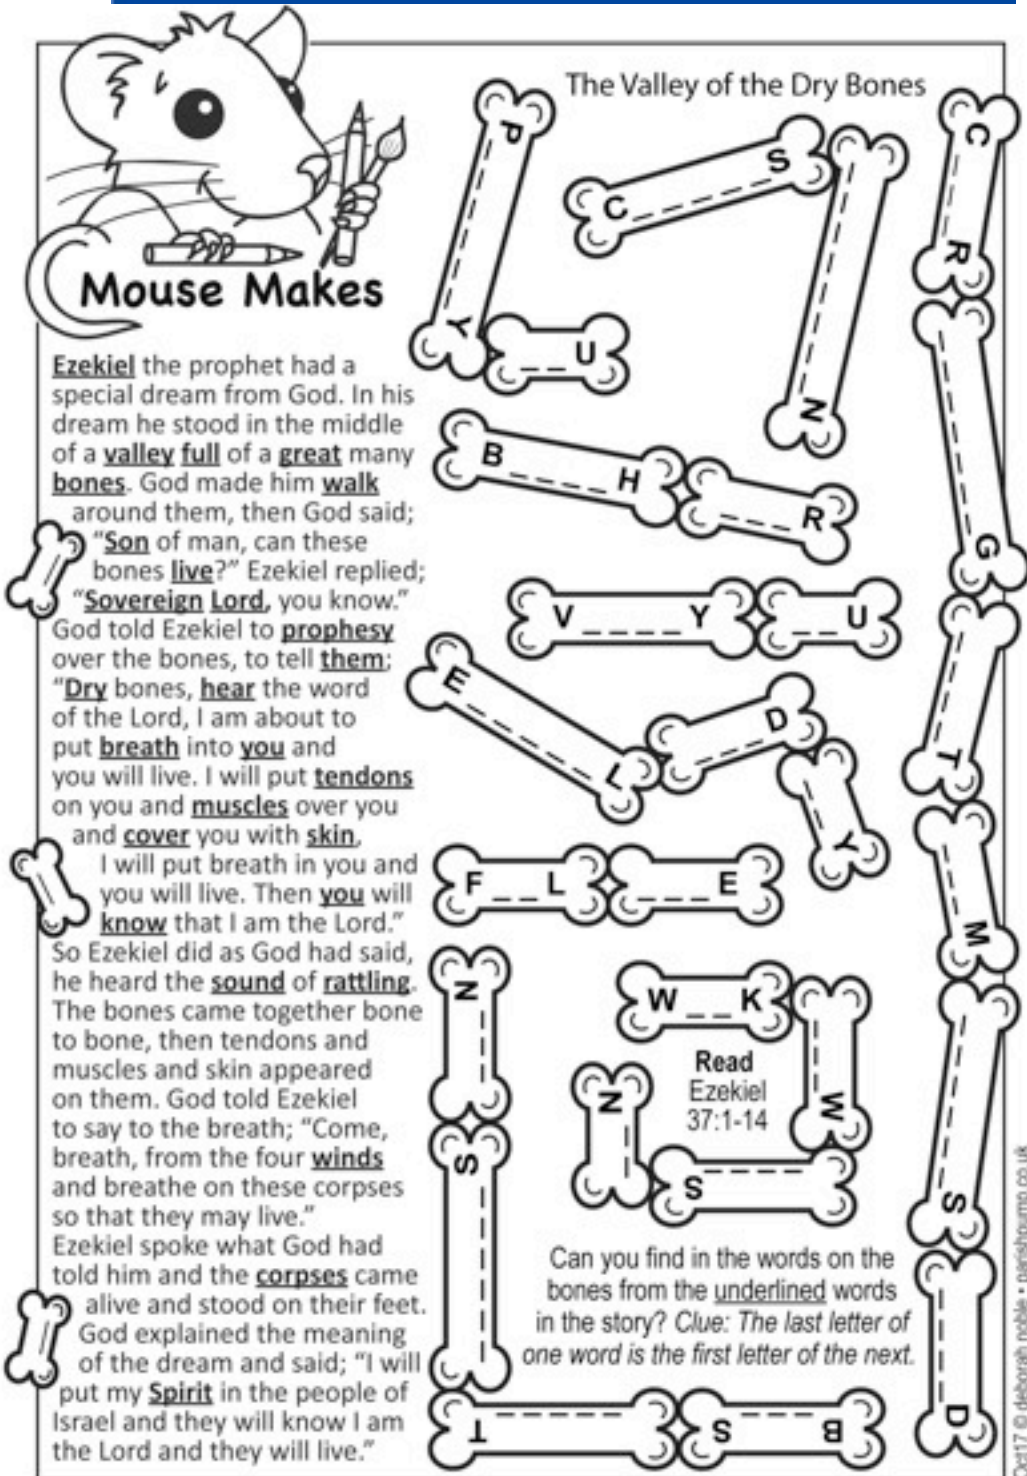

The school will be celebrating Harvest in St Mary's on Wednesday 11th October and we are supporting the church with their collection for the food bank.

David Pickup, a solicitor, takes a humorous look at what happens when a lawyer gets involved...

Legal advice to the prodigal son’s parent

A parent goes to his lawyer and tells him or her that he has two sons. One wants some money. He wants to enjoy himself while he is still young and has some ideas for making money. The son says he can pay it back by having a smaller inheritance. What advice would the solicitor give?

First of all the lawyer would ask is it a gift or loan? What are the terms? Will interest be added? Will there be security for the loan? If the son is buying a house he could give some security. There may be tax benefits for the father in making a gift.

How will it be funded? Has the father got the ready money? If dad hands over most of his cash, he will not have any money for any unexpected expense.

Is it fair to the other son? It might be better to give a smaller amount to both. The best advice is to think carefully about it and not be rushed into making rash decisions.

Supposing it all goes wrong and the son wastes the money. He then wants to come back home. The father then goes to his solicitor again and asks for advice. Legally he does not have to have him back. It would be wise to think carefully and if he is allowed back he should be asked for proposals to repay the money. He should not be lent any more money and the father could change his will.

The father thanks the lawyer for his wise advice. He goes home and looks out of the window hoping to see his son whom he misses and thinks about every minute of the day. Far in the distance he spots him on the road home. He welcomes him and forgives him everything.

The other son then goes to see his solicitor for some advice....

As always this is a light-hearted guide and always take proper advice.

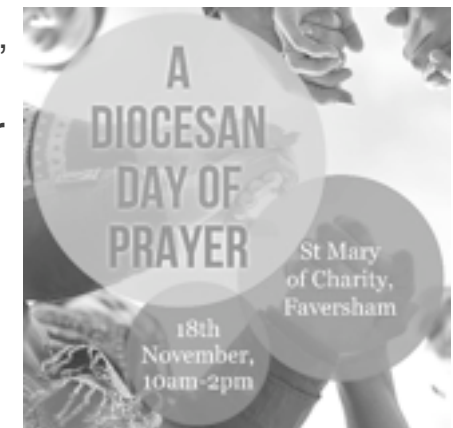

St Mary of Charity, Faversham, will be hosting the Diocesan Day of Prayer on Saturday 18th November, 10am - 1.30pm

Prayer connects us to God: the air we all breathe, our magnetic north, our daily bread. Through prayer we are rooted in God and discern a direction of travel. As a diocesan family, we are a praying people, together in community, rooted in a shared life of prayer.

The day is for anyone of any age who wants to come and pray together in our diocesan community for a renewed world. There will be opportunities for everybody to get involved in all kinds of ways, whoever and wherever you are.

The day is 24 hours of prayer from lunchtime on Friday 17th to lunch time on Saturday 18th November 2017. Satellite events can take place at any point in the 24 hours. Events involving schools will be taking place on Friday afternoon. The central event in Faversham is taking place on Saturday 18th November from 10am-1.30pm.

Wherever we can, either centrally at St Mary of Charity in Faversham or locally (in groups or individually) with resources provided. There will be resources provided to join in with what’s happening in Faversham even if you can’t be there. If you’re praying on your own elsewhere or with your family then you’re a ‘Prayer Partner’ and you can register as a Prayer Partner using the links on the Diocesan website: www.canterburydiocese.org/diocesan-day-of-prayer.

We will pray as we can, together, open to God’s Spirit, wherever we are, especially between 11.30am and 12.30pm which will be an hour of focused prayer. There will be many different ways of praying to participate in, suitable for all ages and all people. There will also be opportunity and resources to join in with fasting and/or pilgrimage if you want to.

A Message from your County Councillor

Autumn seems to be upon us – misty mornings, heavy showers and a distinct nip in the air. I am hoping for an ‘Indian summer’ but who knows.

The lesser number of Borough Council meetings held during August allowed me to visit more Parish Councils, although not all meet in August. As your County Councillor, I have attended Selling, Tunstall, Newnham, Bredgar, Dunkirk and Hernhill , being especially pleased to be able to get to Tunstall and Bredgar as these two parishes are in the ‘new’ part of my County Division which I inherited this year due to the boundary changes.

For the second year running I was at all three days of the New Day Festival at Mount Ephraim, Hernhill. I felt this year the organisation was better and I was pleased to hear only good reports at Hernhill Parish Council a few days later.

On the last day of August I had a very productive meeting with Kent’s Chief Constable and some of his senior team. We discussed at length his Kent Police change programme – Project New Horizon. Despite declining funds and increasing population Mr Pughsley is determined to maintain visible local policing. Modern technology such as body worn cameras are an essential element in keeping officers on the beat rather than in the office.

After that meeting I attended a site meeting in Teynham with Kent County Council cabinet member for highways Matthew Balfour, together with Teynham & Lynsted borough councillors Lloyd Bowen and Mike Whiting. I believe we have made great progress in getting County to see the seriousness of the highway issues in these two villages. We must now await the proposals the officers bring forward and then seek to secure funding.

Police 101 Emergency 999

After a slight hitch last month now back to normal.

A reminder that the clocks will go back an hour on October 29 and to reset your timers etc.. It is a deterrent to would be nasties to have lights on in your property after dusk and I am sure your insurance company would be impressed.

With the return to school there are one or two motors on the school run who tend to drive with more speed than is necessary through the village so please take care. Every effort will be made to make it a safer environment in the village.

We experienced another power cut in the middle of September. Unfortunately all our electric comes via overhead lines and the odd tree does tend to come down and disconnect the power. I personally think that UKpowernetworks do a grand job in getting our supplies back very quickly. Should you require information or assistance during a power cut you can ring 105 and you will receive the help you require.

There have been some strange vehicles in the vicinity but these have been carefully monitored.

Have a good month and take care, Alan

October 31st marks the 500th anniversary of Martin Luther nailing his 95 Theses to the Wittenberg church door in 1517, signaling the start of the Protestant Reformation. He was protesting against the practice of indulgences, where the good deeds of the saints could be purchased to reduce time spent in purgatory, before arriving in heaven. For Luther, this cheapened grace, repentance and forgiveness: 'You can't buy God's friendship!' Luther rediscovered the truths of God's grace: 'For in the gospel the righteousness

The Diary of Tammy the Siamese Cat

by Audrey Keen

Tammy tells her story:
When I took my first breath, I instinctively knew that it was my good fortune to be born of a loving mother, who taught me to respond with affection when raised and housed by kind and gentle people. After a blissful few weeks with my mother and siblings, I was transported by whicker basket to my new home and owners. I sensed that I could look forward to a happy life living with people who would keep me safe, well fed and loved.

At first I missed my feline family terribly and felt my new surroundings strange.

My guardians sensed my sadness and paid me much attention until I felt quite at home. It was several days before I left the comfort of my blanket bed and the warmth of the open fire but, after playing with my toys paled, I found the courage to walk outside and that I was in the countryside. This proved to be great fun, though at times a little frightening.

I have much to tell you and will keep you up to date with my diary entries as the days unfold.

Paul Hardingham considers the reason why the Reformation was so important....

The 500th Anniversary of the Reformation of God is revealed – a righteousness that is by faith from first to last, just as it is written: 'The righteous will live by faith'. ' (Romans 1:17). He recognised that righteousness (being right with God) and forgiveness is not earned by good works, but faith. The undeserved love of God and His acceptance is a matter of trust. This challenge to the Church of Luther's day remains so today! At the Diet (Council) of Worms, he refused to recant his views: 'Here I stand; I can do no other!'

Luther stood for the free forgiveness of the gospel, by which God accepts us because of the death of Jesus on our behalf to deal with our sin. Is this what we believe? Only trusting Jesus can make us right with God. In what ways can we slip into a mindset that seeks God's approval for what we achieve in our spiritual lives, rather than in how we can serve as a response to all He has done for us? We will continue to get things wrong, but God never gives up on us!

Bad King John?

King John is familiar to everyone as the villain from the tales of Robin Hood – greedy, cowardly, despicable and cruel. But who was the man behind the legend? Was he truly a monster, or a capable ruler cursed by ill luck? In this talk historian Dr Marc Morris will examine John's career and character, and assesses the king's actions against the standards of his own age. Drawing on contemporary chronicles and the king's own letters, Marc aims to bring the real John vividly to life. Thursday 12th October in the Parish Hall, Station Road, Charing, Kent. The talk starts at 8pm, doors open at 7.30pm and visitors are welcome at £3 each.

The Great Stalisfield Summer Fete

A wonderful day was had by all at the traditional Summer Fete, from the early morning set up, to enjoying the day, to the early evening clear up, nearly everyone in the village was involved in some way, a true traditional community event! The greasy pole was, as always, popular all day particularly due to the summer heat - all but forgotten now, with choc o lotto sold out before the end of the day! With the usual children's games, bric a brac, home produce, bottle tombola, hoopla and the book stall, the ice cream stand - which turned into a smoothie stand by the end of the day - and the inaugural human fruit machine there was something for everyone. The smash the crockery stand managed to dissipate a huge amount of aggression - well based upon the size of the pieces left at the end of the day and the stocks had the same result! Thanks are given to the Plough for their support for the set up workers, Jonathan Ryan for the use of his PA system and the WI for their usual excellent fare in the village hall, to all the many volunteers who made the day possible. Rat Choc Chip, sponsored by Applause, was a great hit during the day with a "Pied Piper" following of children.

Children's Table Tennis

A number of village children turned up for the table tennis afternoon and enjoyed a few hours break in the summer holidays along with biscuits. Another afternoon is planned for the Christmas break....
